Reimagine Medical Education

CREOG Education Retreat 2019

July 25–26, 2019
OMNI WILLIAM PENN HOTEL, PITTSBURGH, PA

PROGRAM
CREOG provides quality educational programs that enable hard-working program directors, coordinators, and residents to become the next generation of leaders and innovators. To stay current and offer the most up-to-date resources, we have established the CREOG Empower Fund.

The CREOG Empower Fund will be used to provide educational grants and create innovative resources for ob-gyn physicians and resident education. An advisory committee comprising the CREOG Chair, CREOG Education Chair, ACOG VP of Education, and two CREOG representatives will choose projects for funding.

HOW TO GIVE

Stipends and Honoraria
Stipends and honoraria from ACOG and other organizations can be redirected to the ACOG. Please contact Kathleen Kenny at kkenny@acog.org before accepting payments to avoid tax liabilities.

Checks
Please make all checks payable to The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists and mail to CREOG Fund, c/o Kathleen Kenny, 409 12th Street SW, Washington, DC 20024.

Dear Colleague,

Welcome to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, a great city for the 2019 CREOG Education Retreat, Reimagine Medical Education. We hope you use this opportunity to network, renew, and retool. Our Program Chair, Maria Manriquez, MD, has organized an excellent program that balances timely updates on rapidly evolving initiatives with some perennial favorites. I am sure you will find the program informative, invigorating, and entertaining!

In addition to important updates from the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education (ACGME), the American Board of Obstetrics & Gynecology (ABOG), and the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (ACOG), we are fortunate to have several outstanding plenary presentations. Our 2019 Sterling B. Williams, MD, PhD, Memorial Lecturer is Valerie M. Parisi, MD, MPH, MBA. During her presentation, “From C-Sections to C-Suites,” she will present a broad array of career paths that have been populated successfully by obstetrician–gynecologists.

ACOG’s President, Ted L. Anderson, MD, PhD, will kick off his Curriculum for Resident Education in Surgical Technique (CREST) initiative, and sessions will be offered to program directors and residents. The goal of CREST is to enhance resident-educator training of Fundamentals of Laparoscopy Surgery (FLS) skills through best-practice and train-the-trainer sessions to enhance resident FLS pass rates.

New in 2019 is our Exhibits Hall, where we will host the Welcome Reception and wellness breaks. This hall will provide an opportunity for you to meet our educational partners and educational industry representatives.

Recognizing the importance of ob-gyn program managers, the Association of Program Managers in Obstetrics and Gynecology (APMOG) will lead its educational programming. The APMOG Council meeting will follow.

Finally, we will kick off our 2019 Empower CREOG submission for innovative education seed grants as well as our fundraising for this CREOG-specific issue. Please consider donating to keep this initiative going.

Special thanks to the CREOG Crew for helping to make this all happen. Enjoy the 2019 CREOG Retreat!

Sincerely,

Mark B. Woodland, MS, MD
CREOG Chair
