

ICD-10-CM Changes for 2017

REVISIONS TO ICD-CM

The ICD-CM code set in the United States is maintained by the ICD Coordination and Maintenance Committee. This committee includes representatives from the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) and the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS). This committee reviews all requests for changes or additions to the code set.

ACOG's Committee on Health Economics and Coding meets regularly with members of the ICD Committee to discuss requests (from ACOG, other groups, or from individuals) for changes in current ob/gyn-related codes or for the creation of new codes. ACOG's Committee also answers questions from the ICD Committee concerning appropriate terminology and definitions for ob/gyn diagnoses.

The Director of NCHS and the Administrator of CMS make the final coding data set decisions. Changes become effective October 1 of each year. A grace period for implementing new ICD codes is not provided. In preparation for ICD-10-CM implementation, a code freeze was implemented for new ICD10-CM codes applied for after 2012. As a result, no new ICD-10-CM codes were implemented for the 2016 ICD-10-CM release. However, now that ICD-10 has been implemented, code changes recommended and approved during the code freeze will go into effect as part of the first regular ICD-10CM update on October 1, 2016.

HIPAA requires insurers to accept new diagnosis codes beginning on October 1st.

The International Classification of Diseases, 10th Edition, Clinical Modification, (ICD-10-CM) code set for 2017 includes quite a few updates of interest to ob-gyns.

The ICD-10 Coordination and Maintenance Committee approved the following changes for 2017.
