Covered by Medicaid for your pregnancy?

Women covered on or after March 18, 2020 will remain covered during the COVID-19 health emergency.

Normally, Medicaid covers pregnant women for 60 days after they give birth. Federal law has been changed in response to the spread of coronavirus (COVID-19) to extend that coverage.

Contact your health care provider or county assistance office. They may know if you are eligible for other sources of medical coverage after COVID-19 is no longer an emergency. They also may know if you are able to stay on Medicaid.
